ROALD DAHL DAY

Friday is our first theme day of the new school year. We will be having a number of these theme days and weeks to supplement our curriculum during the course of the year. Our first one is our Roald Dahl Day to celebrate the birthday of the legendary author. The children will be taking part in a number of themed activities during the day with a writing, reading and art focus. The day is not non-uniform. Children should attend in uniform as normal. We have many non-uniform opportunities elsewhere during the year.

YEAR 6 BORWICK RESIDENTIAL

Many children in year 6 have travelled to Borwick for their residential week. They arrived safely yesterday afternoon and are due to return on Friday afternoon at approximately 2.30pm. We shall inform families if there is a significant change to the expected return time.

ATTENDANCE REVIEW

On page two of your weekly news is a review of attendance. This will appear weekly and will allow you to see how your child's class, year group and whole school are performing. Last year school was just 0.1% below the latest national average and this shows sound improvement in the last year or so. As your new headteacher, I take attendance and punctual arrival as a major priority and monitor this each day alongside the team. I trust you will all agree that our children being in school is imperative and I look forward to handing out our many new attendance awards during the year.

GENES FOR JEANS DAY—FRIDAY 20TH SEPT: NON-UNIFORM

ADVERTISING EXTERNAL SERVICES

We have had a number of requests to promote/advertise individuals' companies, groups or services. Unfortunately we are unable to do so and can only promote those activities/groups which we support as a school or have a role in. Many thanks for your attention with this.

LATE ARRIVALS

18 children arrived late for school in Autumn Week 1. 1 child arrived so late that it became an unauthorized late. Together these children lost almost a full morning of learning combined.

However, we had 292 children with perfect punctuality last week. Well done! This was fabulous.
